Vol.
XLVI

Preface . . .

Within the school year
all of the students are mixed into the student body at Mount Vernon High School.
We of the Forum Staff are trying to portray student life.

The candida are an attempt to catch a mood, an expression or an action exemplifying the individual qualities of the student body as a whole.
We are not trying to accentuate these persons, but instead, to show their true personalities.

As the aspects of student life are shown, we become aware of human qualities
By catching a glimpse of some experience among individuals, we are representing the individuality of those students.

With the closing of an era at Mount Vernon, the staff wishes to show the substance of the school's past.
We shall try to accomplish this through reflections of the individuality of those who were a part of this last year.

The 1969 Forum presents a spectrum of student life.

Kathryn Dunham Receives Forum Dedication

This year the Forum is dedicated to Mrs. Kathryn Vulgamore Dunham.

She was born in Jasper, Ohio, and graduated from Piketon Rural High School in 1939. She graduated from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio in 1943. She achieved a B.S. in English and history.

She married Harold Dunham on June 8, 1947. The Dunhams have four children. Jon, who attends Transylvania College, Luanne, a recent graduate of M.V.H.S., Jim, a high school junior, and Dan, a high school freshman.

Mrs. Dunham has taught four years at Western Pike, two years at Danville and at our school since 1961.

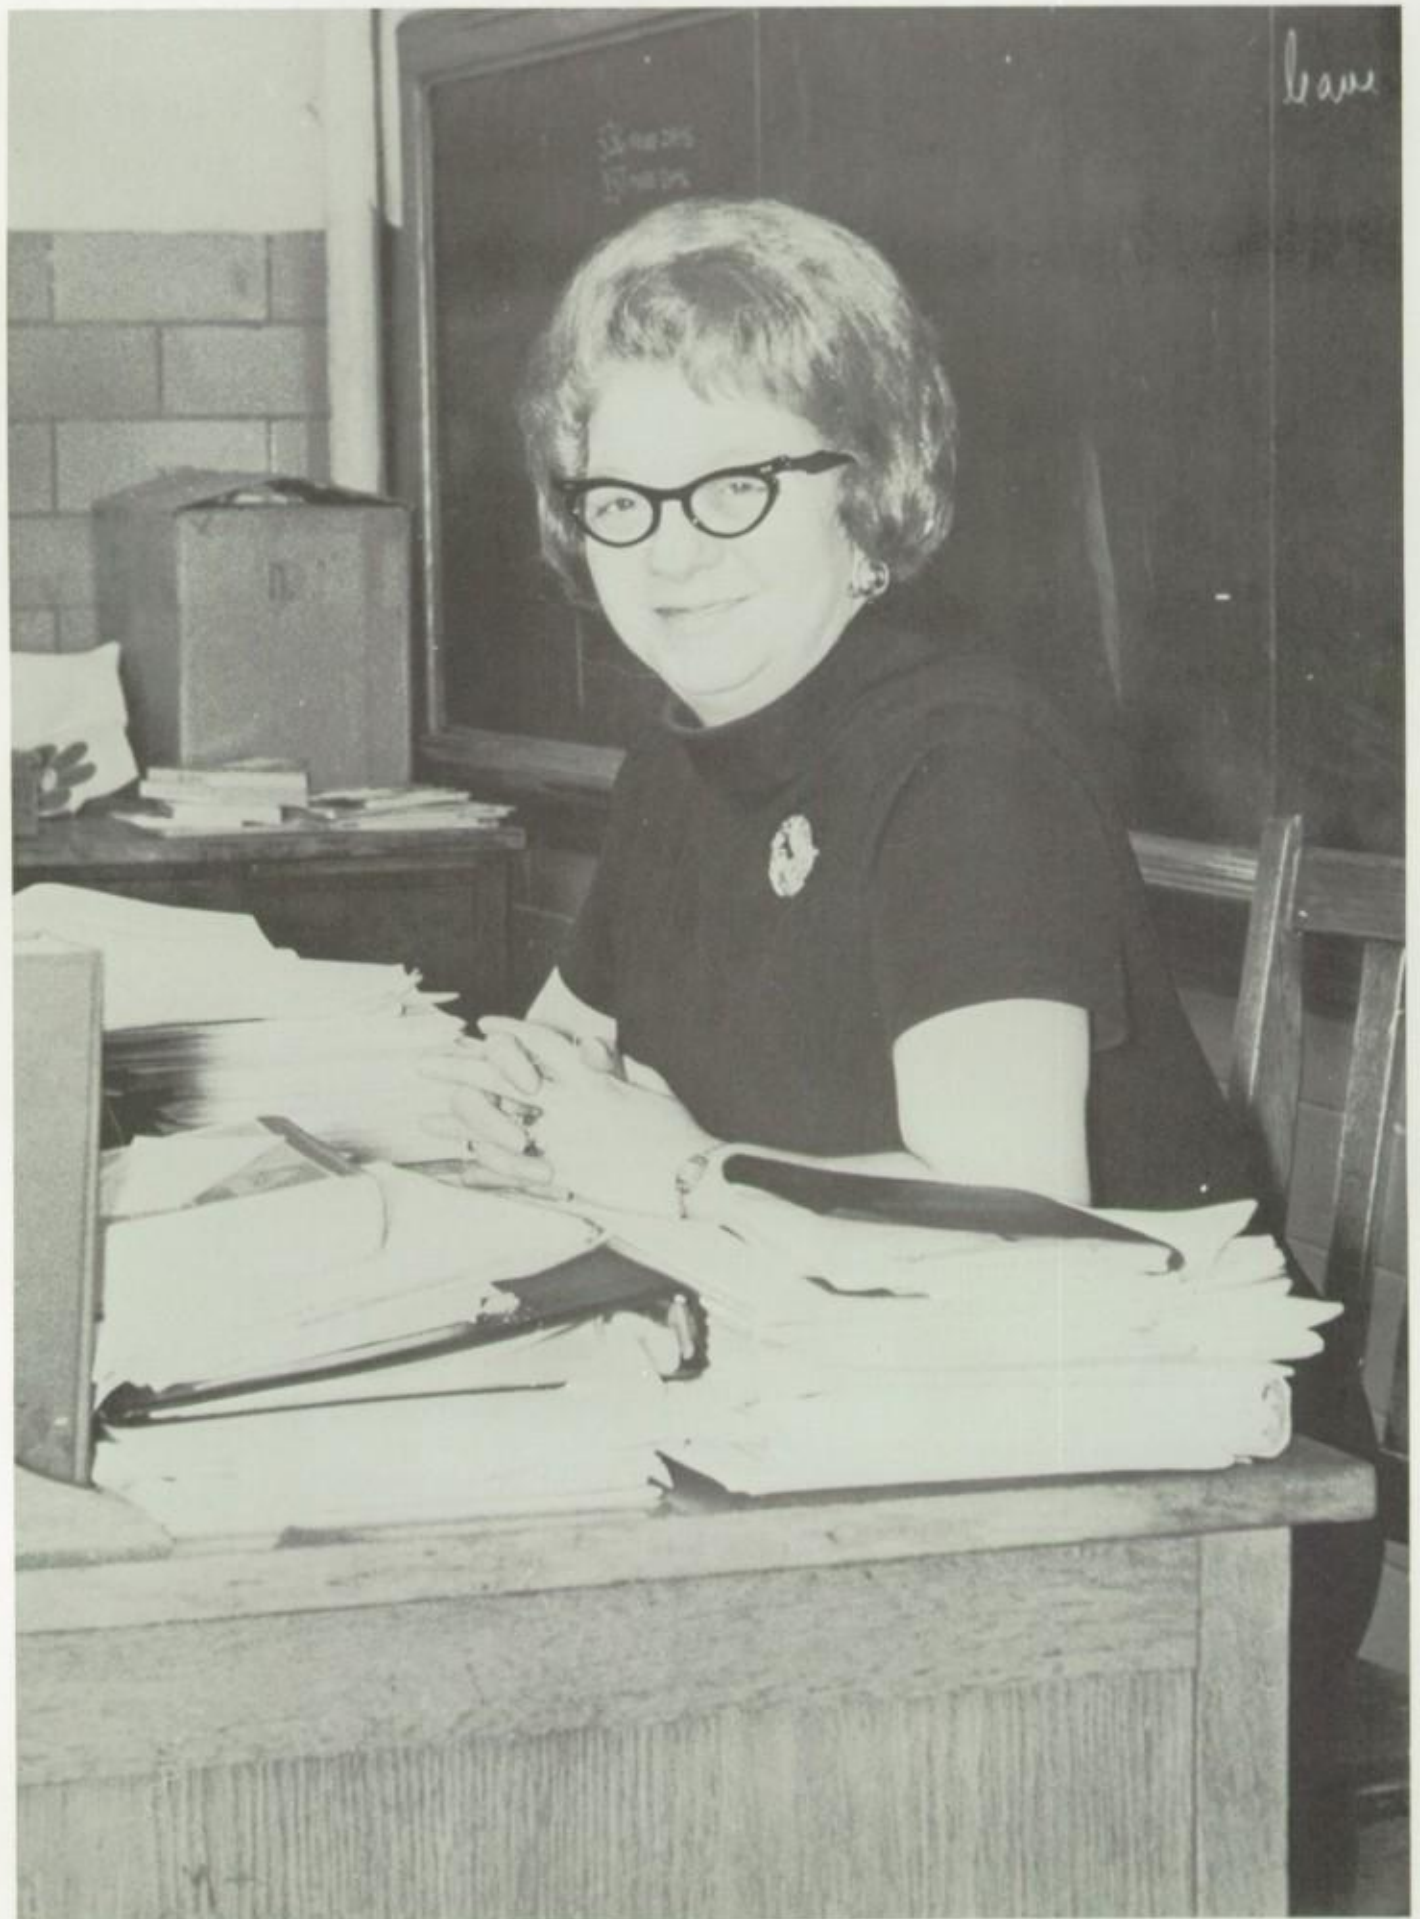

She has received two grants for further education in 1962 at Ohio State and in 1967 at Purdue.

Through her efforts, courses in Drama and Shakespeare have been added to the high school English curriculum. She instructs these courses; Honors English 12, and three English 12 classes.

Mrs. Dunham also is wrapped up with Vedette, the high school literary magazine.

Mrs. Dunham is instrumental in motivating her classes to see the Kenyon dramatic presentations.

She is characterized by her frankness, articulation, and wide-awake attitude in the morning.

Social Studies Causes Critical Awareness

The Social Studies department by use of current events and the social studies disciplines, helps the student realize the problems of the day. This is correlated with the idea that problems may have begun in the past, yet they can not be cured immediately.

The department also began curriculum revision and contemplated additions to the social studies curriculum.

Mr. James Imel, jolly chairman, said the department investigated plans for the new high school.

Mr. Rice gives Mike Rhinehart individual attention.

In Senior Social Studies students enjoy team teaching. The photo shows one of the experiments of class as the class begins group work in the taking of polls.

English Inspires Creative Motivation

Under the chairmanship of Mr. Donald Bower, the English Department pushed the main objective of appreciation for English and self-motivation.

Miss Esther Schollosser, first year teacher, took over Expository Writing and stressed a in-depth writing course featuring variety and deep individual association between writer and material.

Other additions to the department included Miss Carol Bundy and Mrs. Alice Steffan in sophomore English.

Mr. Roger Robertson was the new speech teacher and is broadening the content of the Speech curriculum. He used the Speech courses for broadening debate and drama activities in our school.

Ron Staats, WMVO program director, spoke before the journalism class on the aspects of "Electronic Journalism." Before his two-day discussion he gave special curriculum guides to Mr. Odroneic and Journalism students and English Department.

Mr. Bower watches Margaret Morehouse give a demonstration in English XII

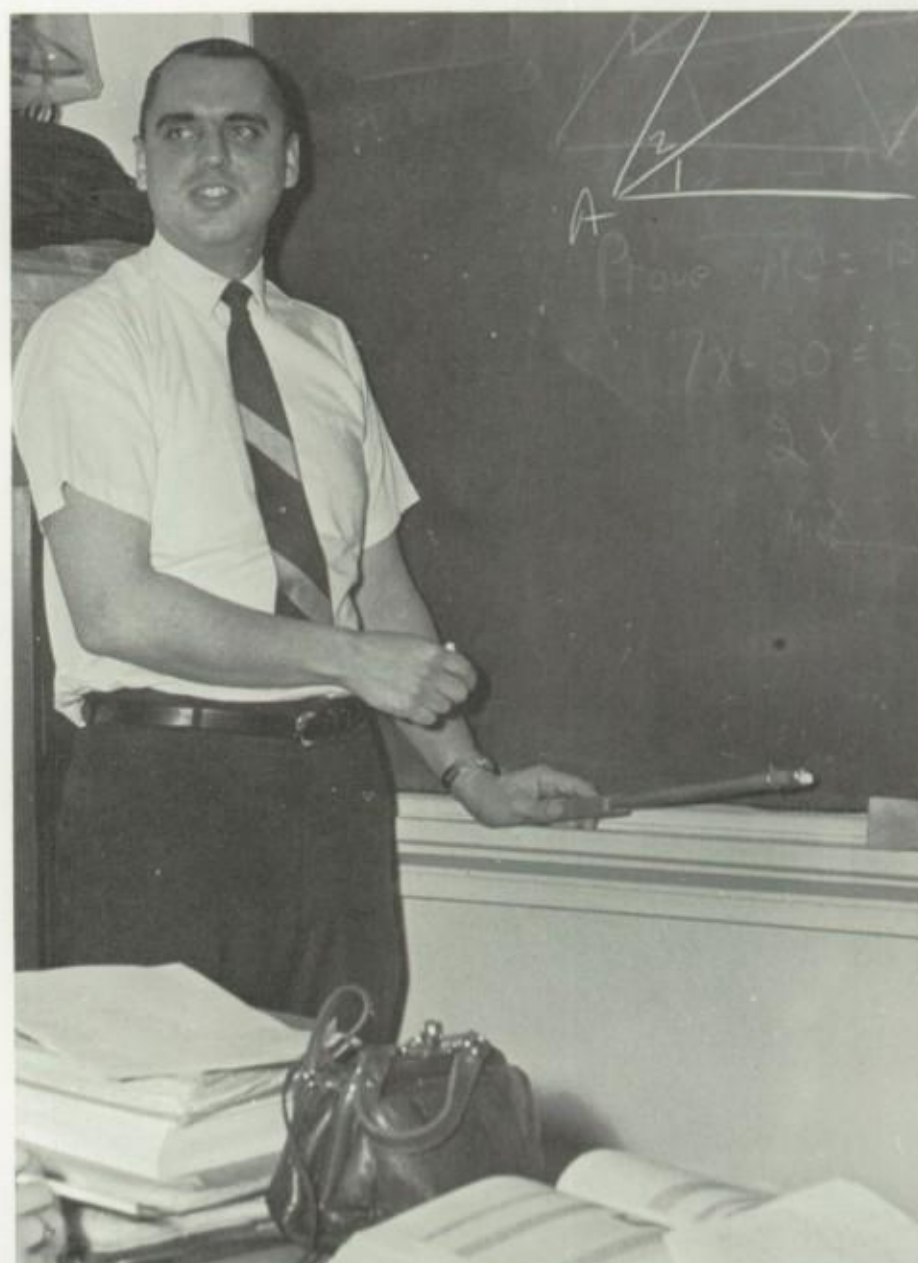

Mathematics Adds to Potential

The mathematics department stresses the orderly manner of world and strives to use math to add to the student potential.

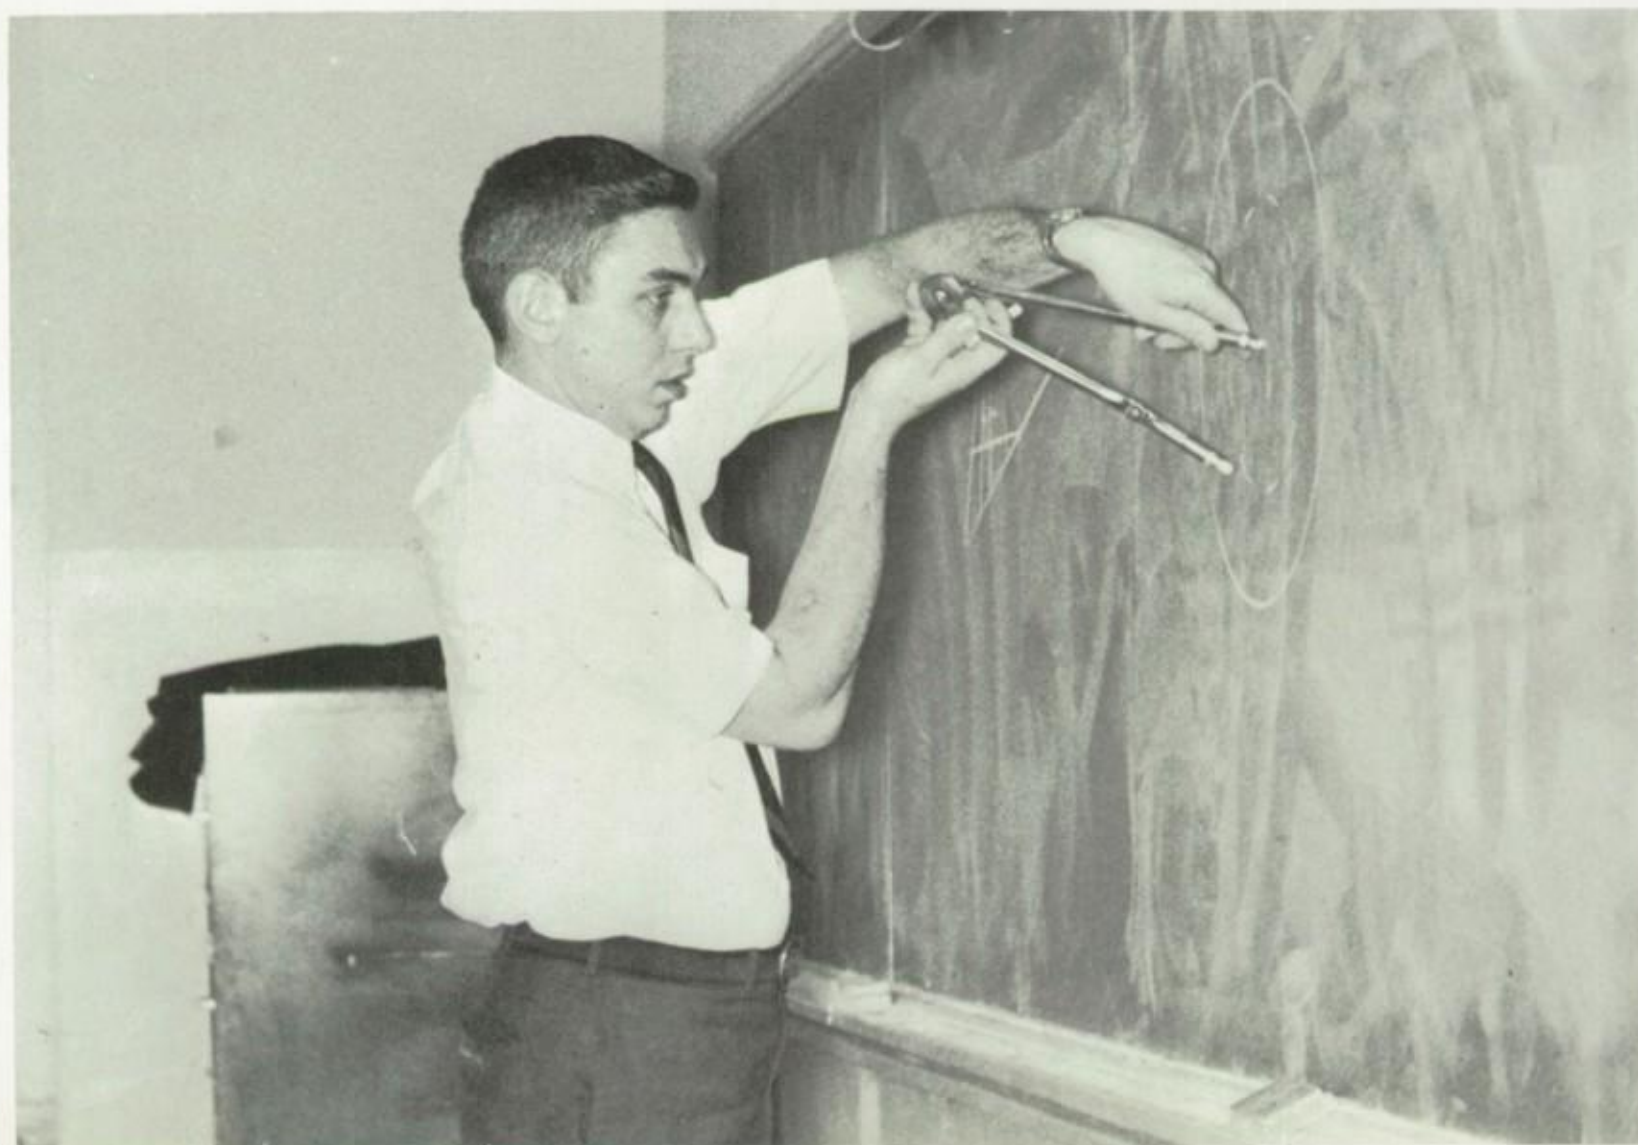

With this potency, the department continued to evaluate methods and materials.

The high school department was instrumental in the K-12 curriculum study of the Mount Vernon City Schools.

This year, Mr. Keith Merrin was added to the department as a geometry teacher.

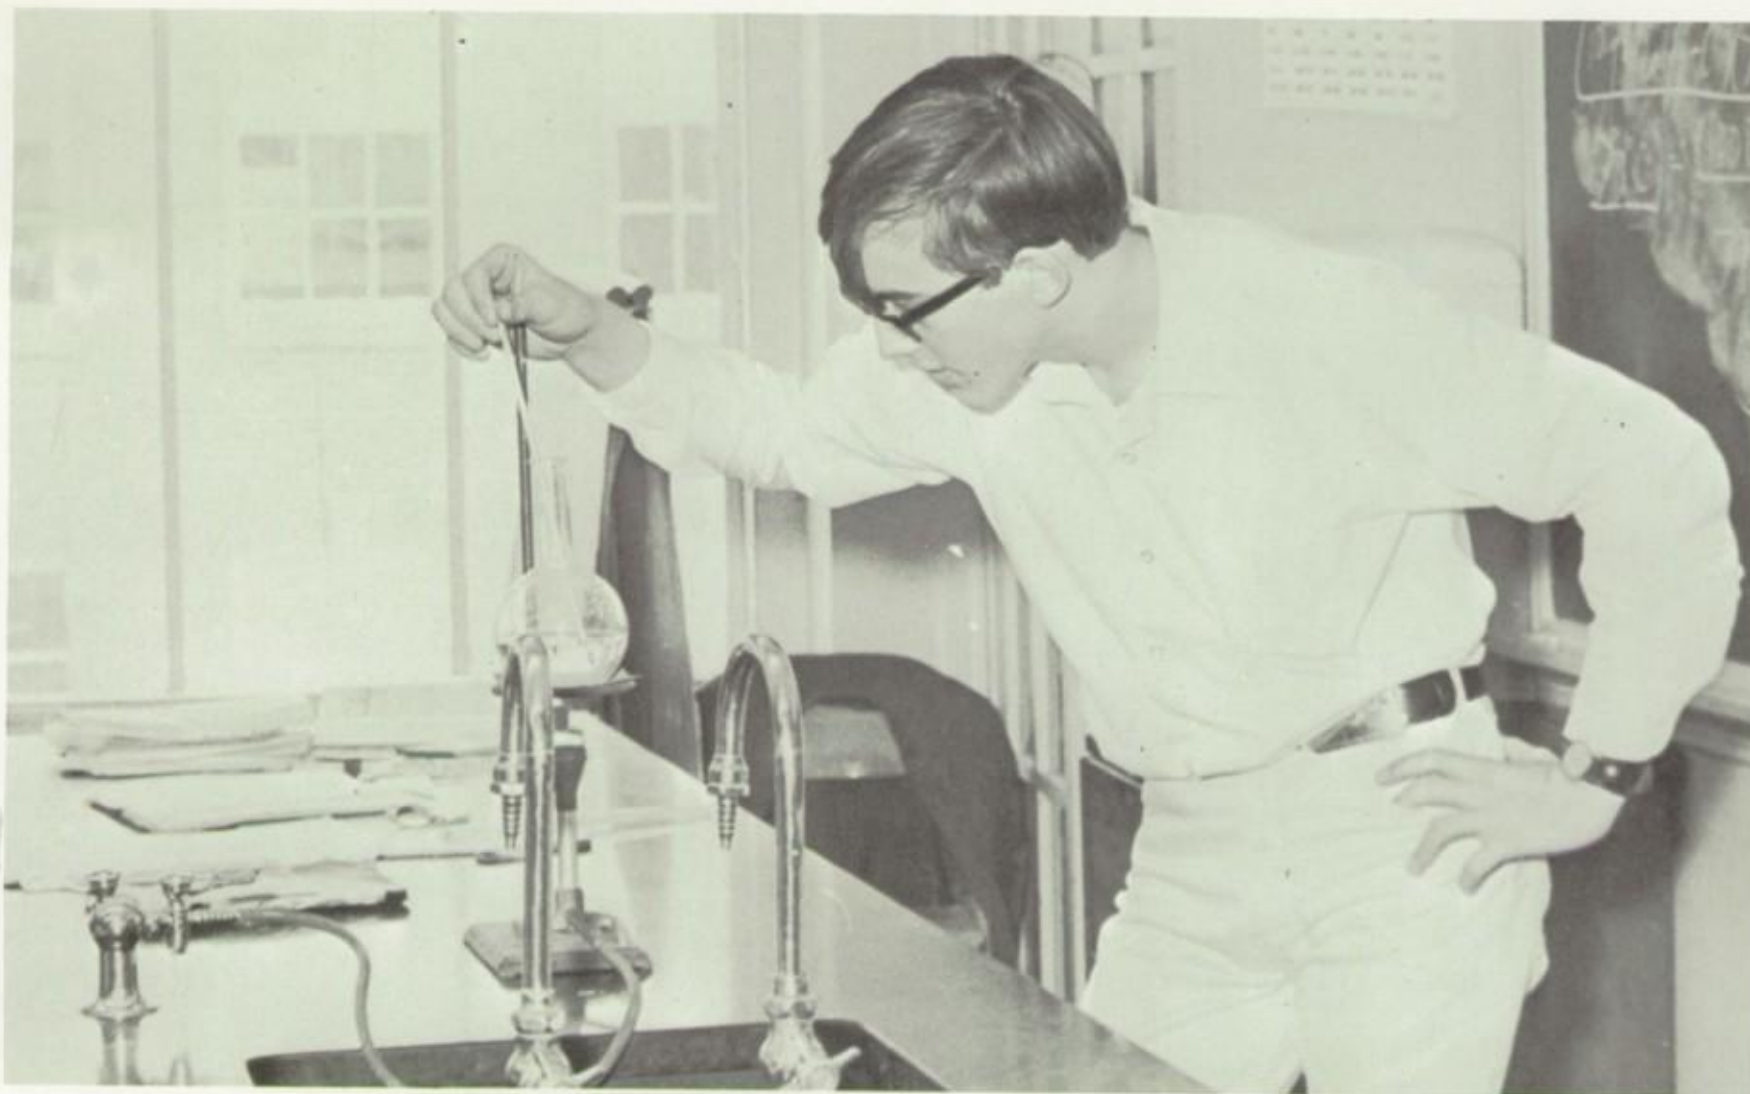

Mr. Merrin demonstrates the proper technique in bisecting an angle.

Mr. Sleek shows the correct way of drawing a circle.

Science Stresses Systems

Jack Pealer reads the temperature of a solution in Chemistry Class.

Science is systematized knowledge derived from observation, study, and experimentation carried on in order to determine the nature or principle of what is being studied.

With the above goal, the science department of our school tried to emphasize the finding of unknowns and stress the practicality of studying the sciences.

Two new additions to the department were Mr. Allen Helser in Biology and Mr. William Achberger in Physics.

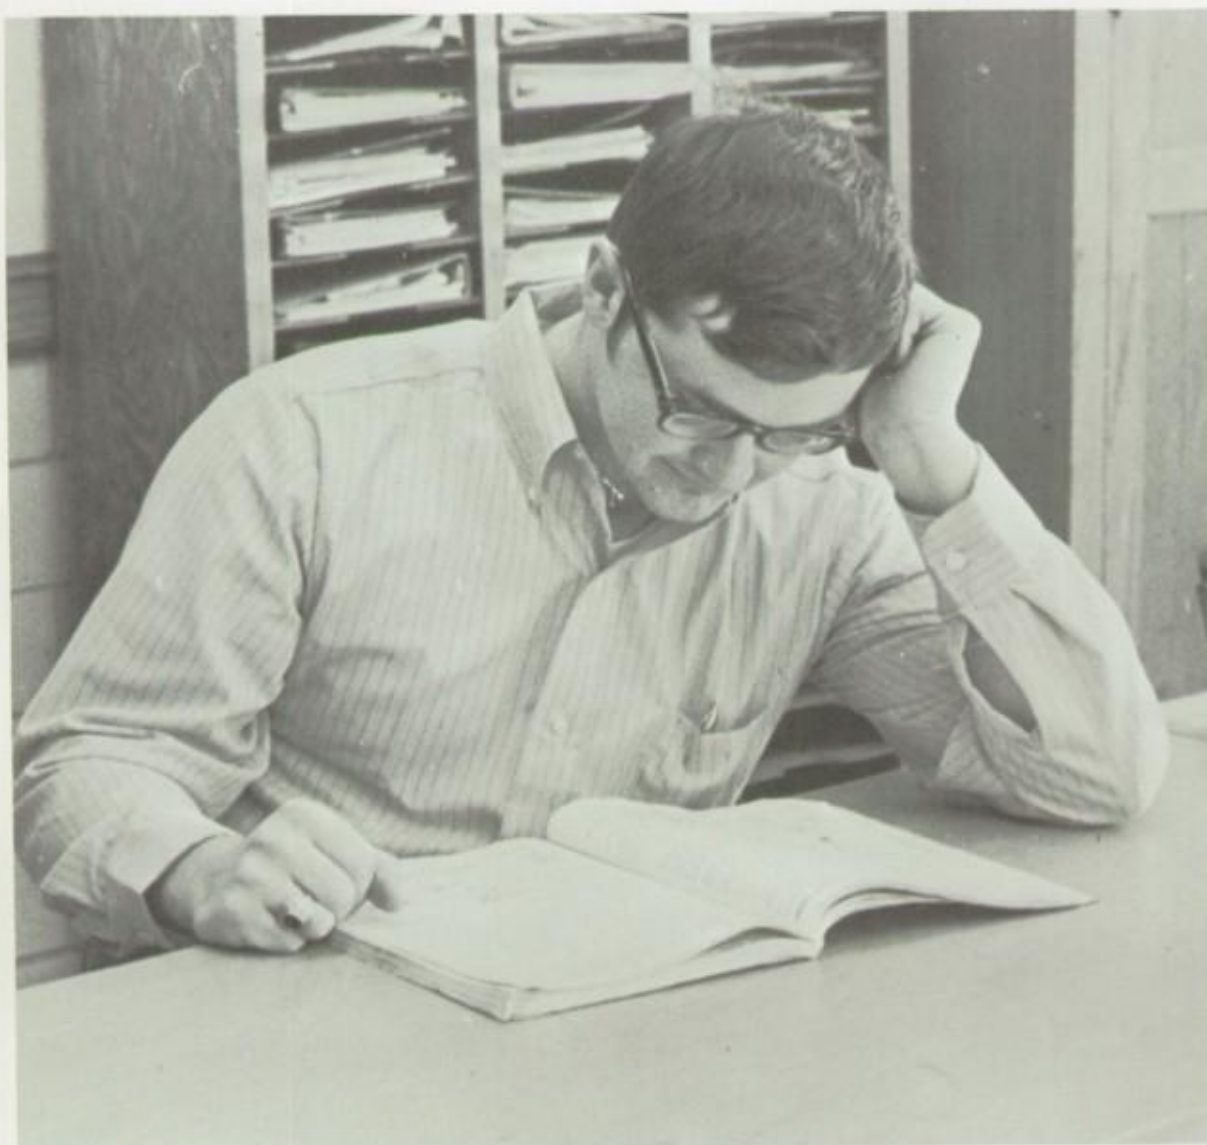

Biology students gaze at bulletin board.

Vocational Agriculture Grows

Richard Ridenbaugh studies for an exam.

One of the fastest growing areas of re-emphasis in our nation is farming.

Only through farming and a renewed effort for efficiency and practical methods of operations can farming succeed.

The local Vo. Ag. Department stresses a practical approach with students engulfed with home projects as well as school projects.

Department teachers, Mr. Clarence Fridline visit many farms to check projects.

Jim Daniels repairs a fence.

Vocational Home Economics Combines Home, School Life

National F.H.A. President, Estelle Hunter, of Sunbury, spoke to the local chapter.

Vocational home economics coordinates classroom learning with practical home application. Students are required to complete two home projects each year that may fall in any area of home economics classroom study. In this way, the families of home economics students also become involved.

The areas Vocational home economics range from all areas of foods to arts such as interior decorating and flower arranging. This year semester courses were offered in clothing, child development, foods, and housing and interior decorating.

The girls also organize the local Future Homemakers of America chapter which is a social as well as an educational club.

Mrs. Odroneic explains a project to Mary Jo Bell and Sandy Williams.

Sue Everhart, Celeste Hill, and Sue Campbell concentrate on making soup.

Art Strives for Discipline

Discipline is defined as training to act in accordance with rules. It is also defined as instruction and exercise designed to train to proper action. These definitions of discipline are stressed in Miss Sandra Schackett's art classes.

Besides emphasizing discipline the art department pushes the training effect of experience or adversity.

Ditching an artsy, craftsy approach, Miss Shackett aimed for fundamentals and advanced projects depending on the student's experience.

The advanced art classes were responsible for the gala decorations in the high school entrance. These gala decorations had a theme of holidays, festivities, or seasons.

Heidi Finkbinder designs clay pot.

Steve Frye, Kathy Peters, and Beth Hoagland study introduction to pottery.

Language Interprets Cultural Communication

Jodell Mier studies national event to understand her culture.

The language department tried to interpret the culture of foreign lands by a study of the language of foreign lands.

Mrs. Alice Harvey was added as a French teacher this year.

Distributive Education Aims for Work Experience

DE OFFICERS: Steve Daugherty, Marty Evans, Mike Crouch, Terry Neipling

This year the Distributive Education program was meshed with many activities related to its student organization the Distributive Education Club of America (DECA).

DE places students in a work experience setup, allowing students a half-day of school to work.

Biggest projects of the year were the annual DE banquet and the acquisition of DECA blazers by selling leather pocket calendars.

BOE Students Receive Practical Experience

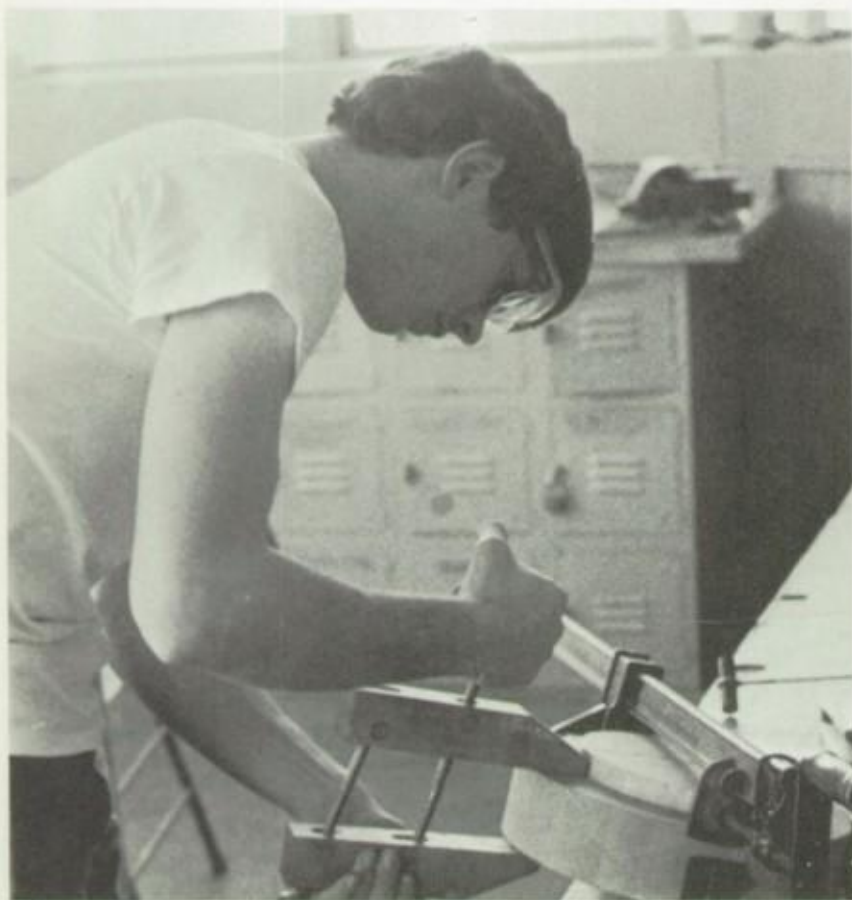

BOE students practice taking dictation.

BOE students learn the numerous skills associated with jobs in business offices. These skills include: typing; shorthand; IBM programming; and the use of the many other mechanical wonders now associated with secretarial work. Office etiquette is learned and practiced in addition to these technical skills.

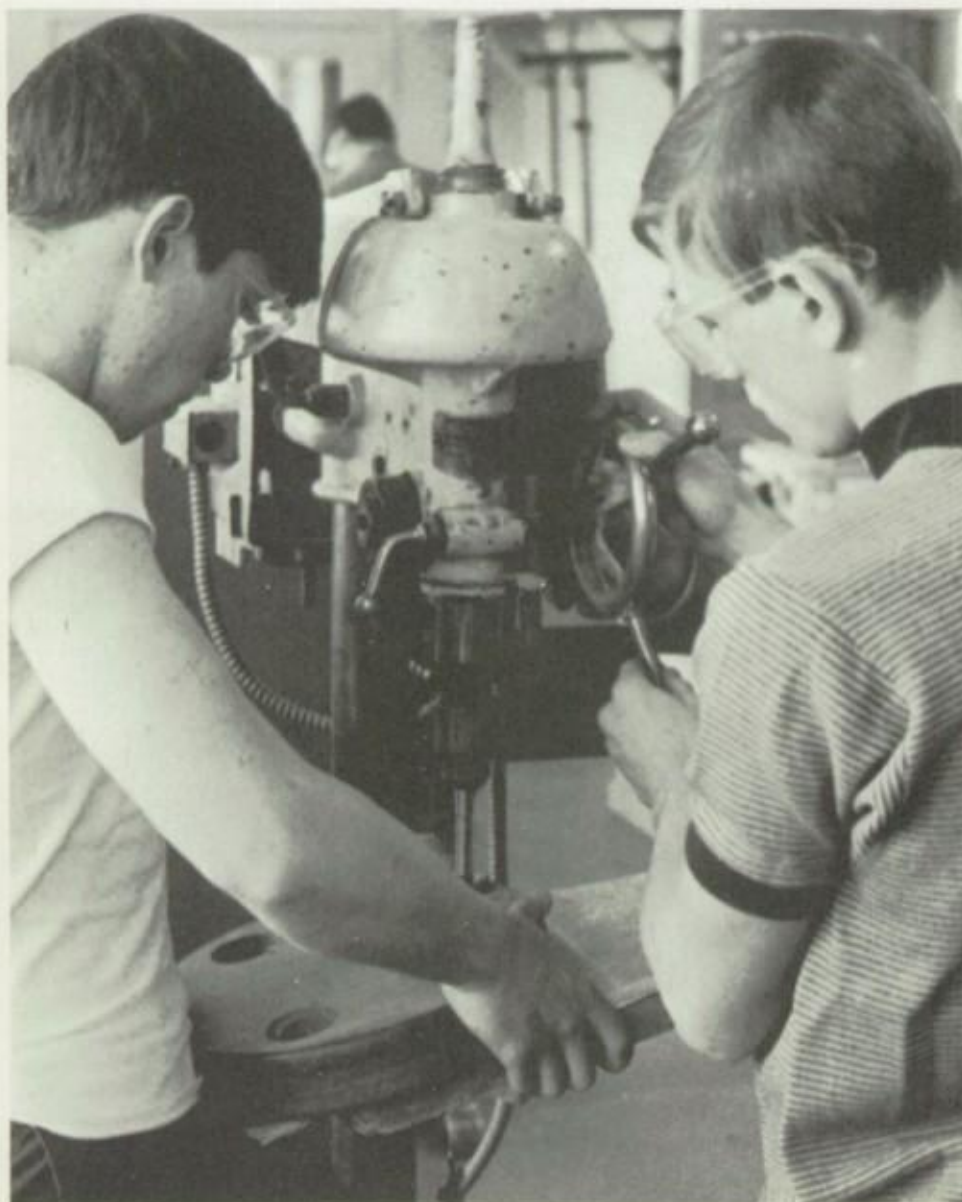

Future secretaries improve their typing skills.

Industrial Arts Helps Students Practice Skills

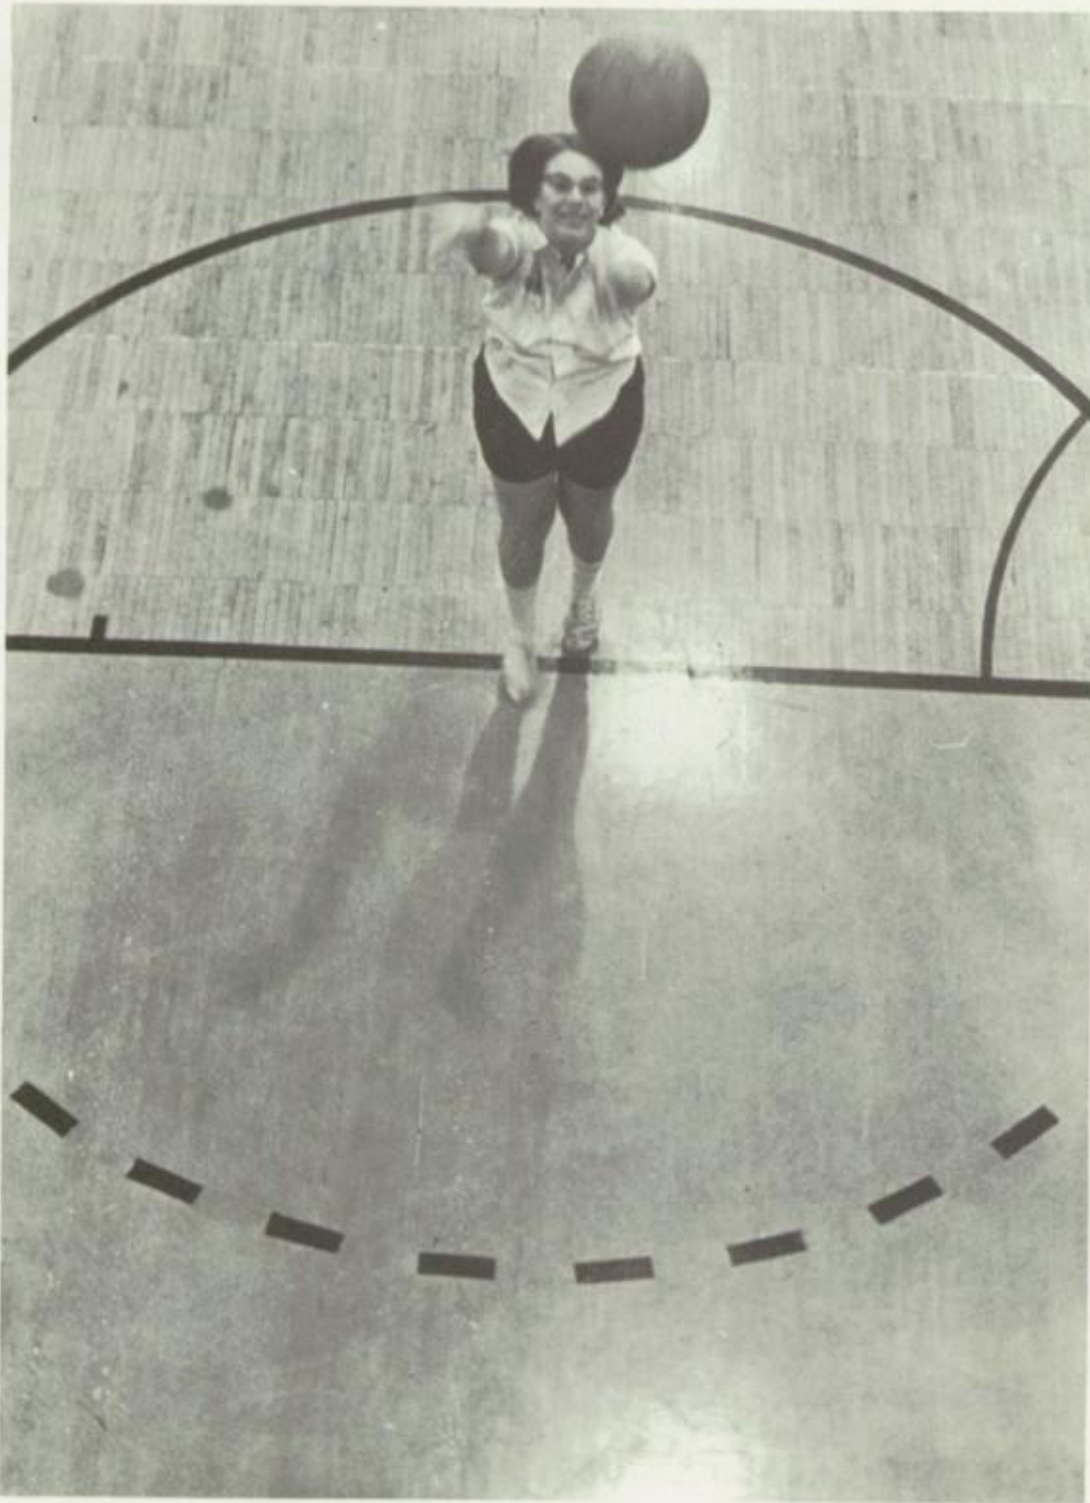

Dave Sheffer checks the precision of his project.

Steve Sialer gives Ken Young a hand.

Dick Fox works on his toothpick.

Physical Education, Health Show the Value of Human Body

Debbie Frost attempts a shot from the foul line.

Through courses in health and physical education, students are shown the value of the human body.

Physical Education classes stressed conditioning and body development while health classes studied the intricate functions of the body and how a person can take care of himself.

New teachers in the health and physical education departments were Miss Carol Bundy in girls' physical education and Mr. Tim Faulkner in health.

Exercise keeps the body in shape.

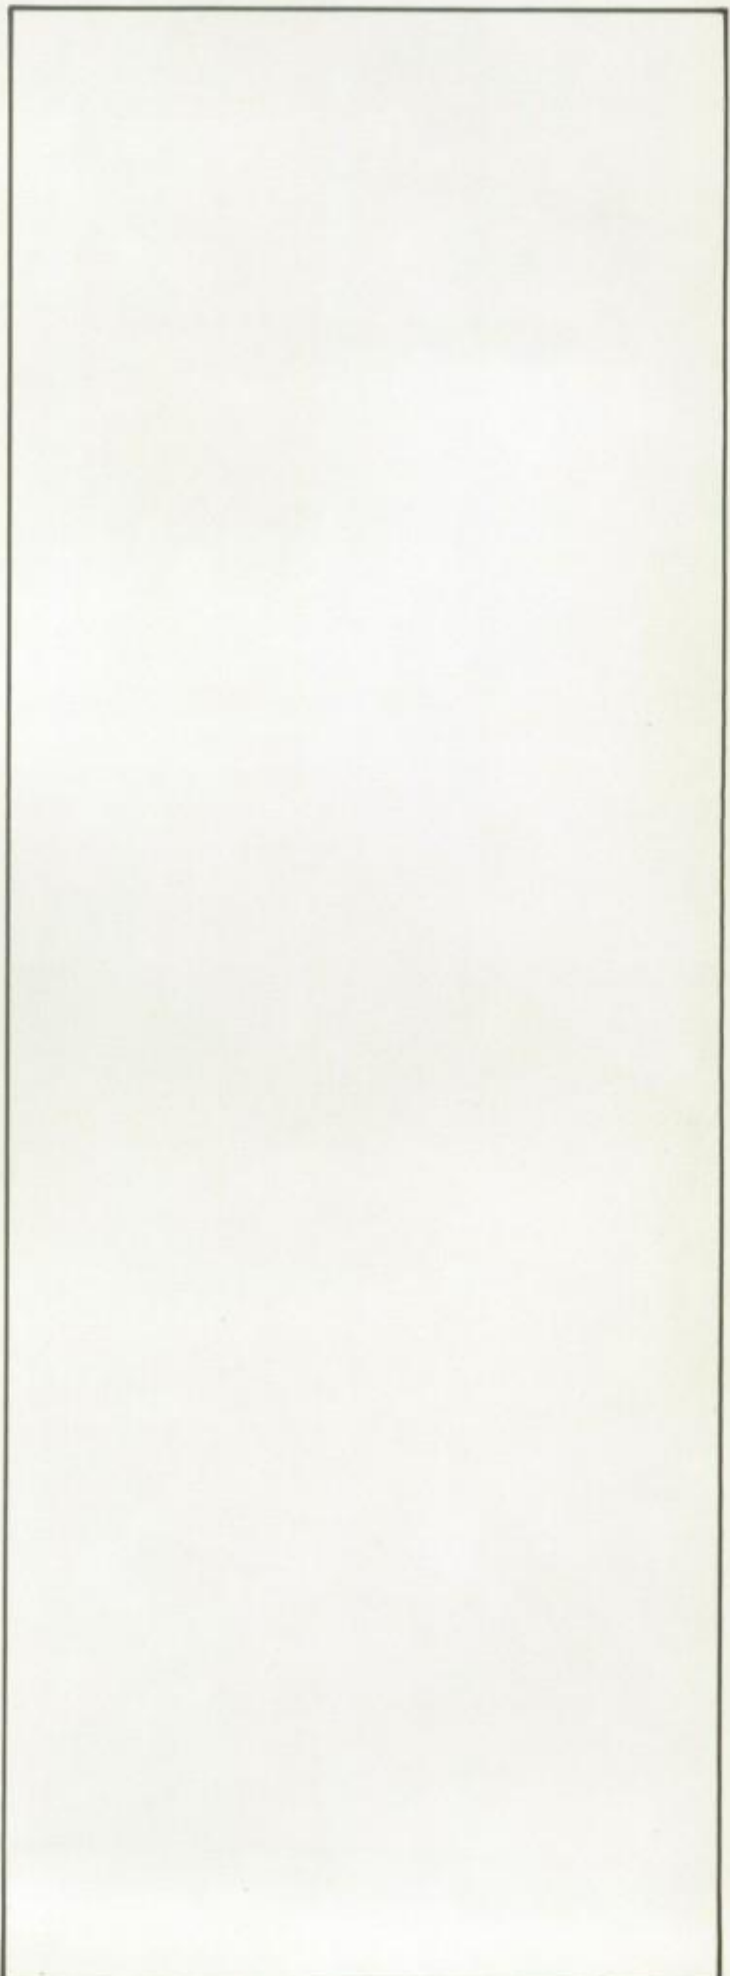

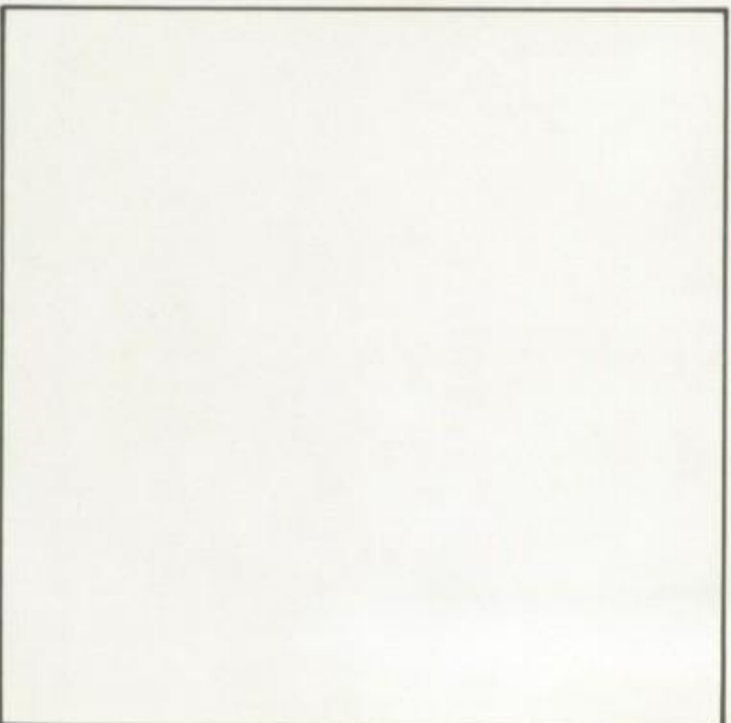

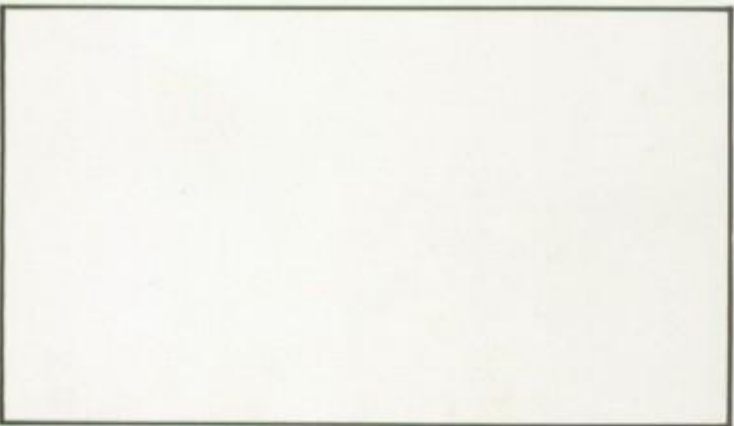

Pam Hodge and Smokey Badbug demonstrate the evils of cigarettes.

Carolyn Hollinger Voted Homecoming Queen

Queen Carolyn Hollinger

Queen Carolyn sits in her throne. Her escort is Don Hillier.

The Homecoming Ceremonies were preceded by the customary snake dance winding from the High School to Riverside Park where a thuse was held. It was at the thuse that the members of the Homecoming Ceremonies were introduced.

This year customs were broken by having the Homecoming Dance on Saturday, October 19, the day after the game. This was done in an effort to give to the Homecoming more meaning.

In spite of the plague of horrible weather, no spirits were dampened and the Homecoming was a success. The 1968 Homecoming will be remembered for many years to come.

Queen Carolyn Hollinger (center) Patty Boucher, Sr. Attendant Debbie Boucher, Jr. Attendant

The theme was "Blue Moon" as Queen Carolyn Hollinger stepped forward to reign over the 1968 Homecoming Ceremonies.

Elected by the football team, Carolyn ruled over the Mount Vernon-Westerville Game on October 18.

Leading was not a new experience for Carolyn. She has been a varsity cheerleader for three years. The queen has also been an active Student Council member and was a junior attendant to the Homecoming and Forum Queens last year.

Marsha Metcalf and Patty Boucher were the senior attendants with Debbie Boucher and Sheryl Grey as the Junior Attendants.

Marsha was a varsity cheerleader in her sophomore and senior years. She was also a Student Council member and editor of the Forum.

Patty was a Junior Attendant to the Homecoming and Forum Queens last year. This year she was president of Tri-Hi-Y and a member of Student Council.

Sheryl was a varsity cheerleader this year and an energetic member of the Pep Club.

Debbie was active in Pep Club and the school choir.

Latin Club Features Banquet

Jim Dunham and Rick Kidd discuss the latest slave market quotations.

Beth Ralston and Eric Briggs demonstrate the legendary Latin style of eating.

The annual Latin Club Banquet, highlight of the year for the club, featured an evening dedicated to Latin lovers.

Special guest for the affair was Miss Sandra Shackett, art teacher, who gave a presentation on Latin art, culture, and artifacts.

First year Latin students were slaves and were purchased by second year students. Second year students assumed roles of citizens, senators, and countrymen.

Also the affair had a three course meal. It consisted of grapes and grape juice and the old Latin favorite, fried chicken.

Yvette Courson digests her "Latin Fried" chicken.

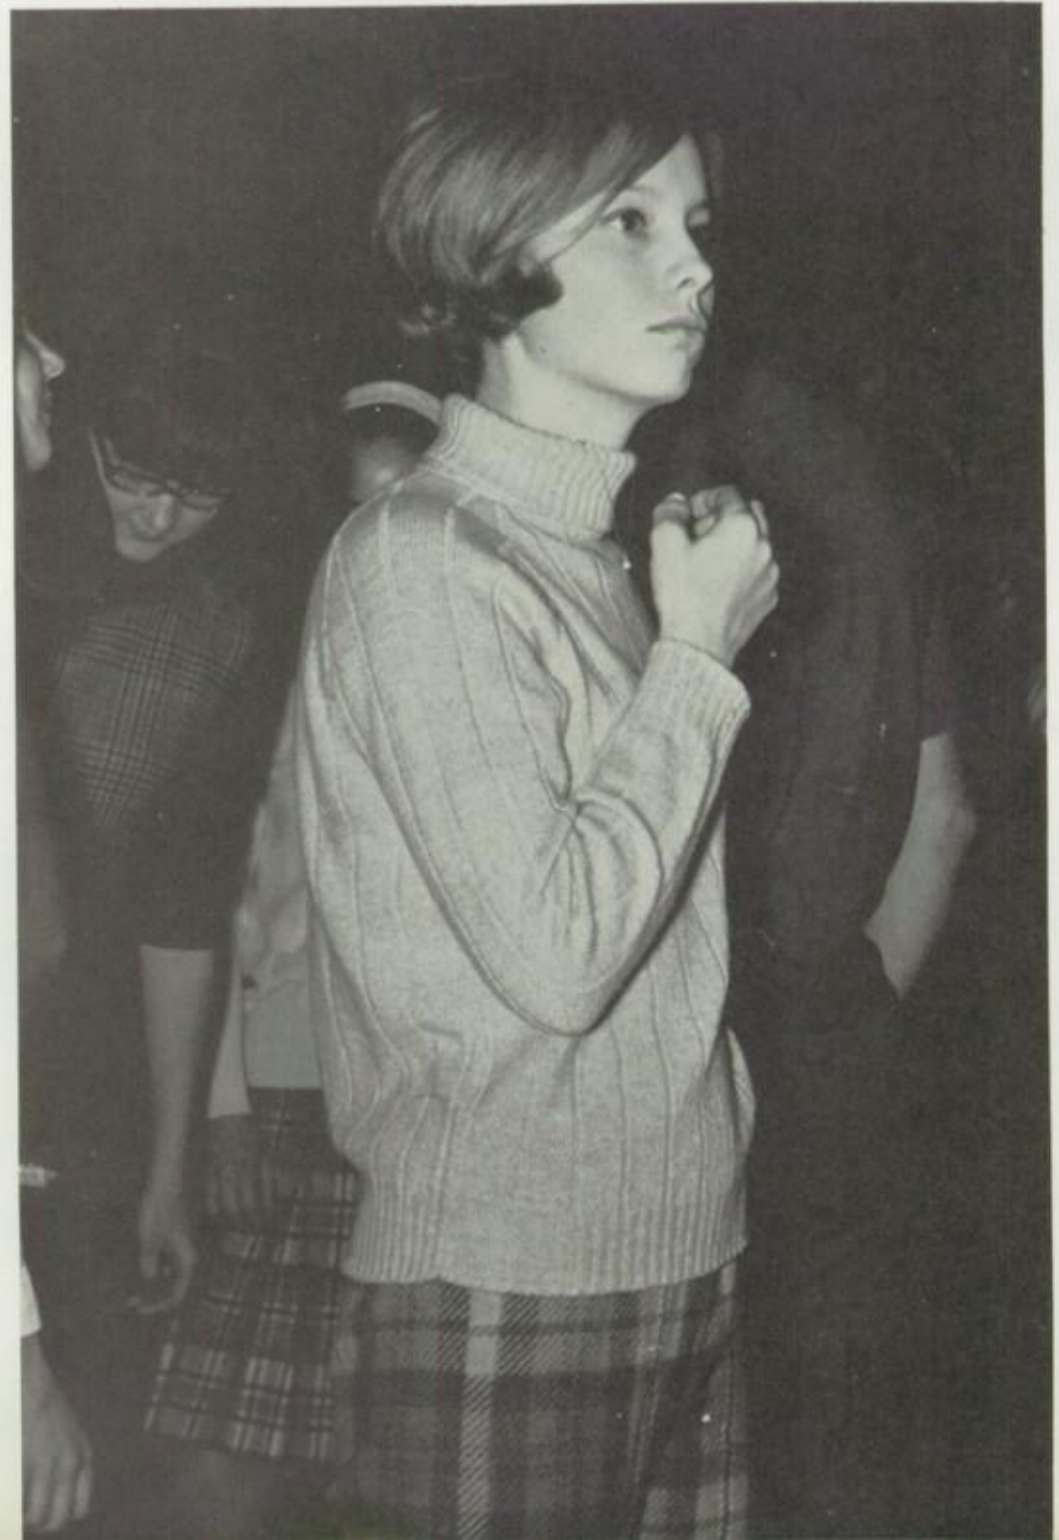

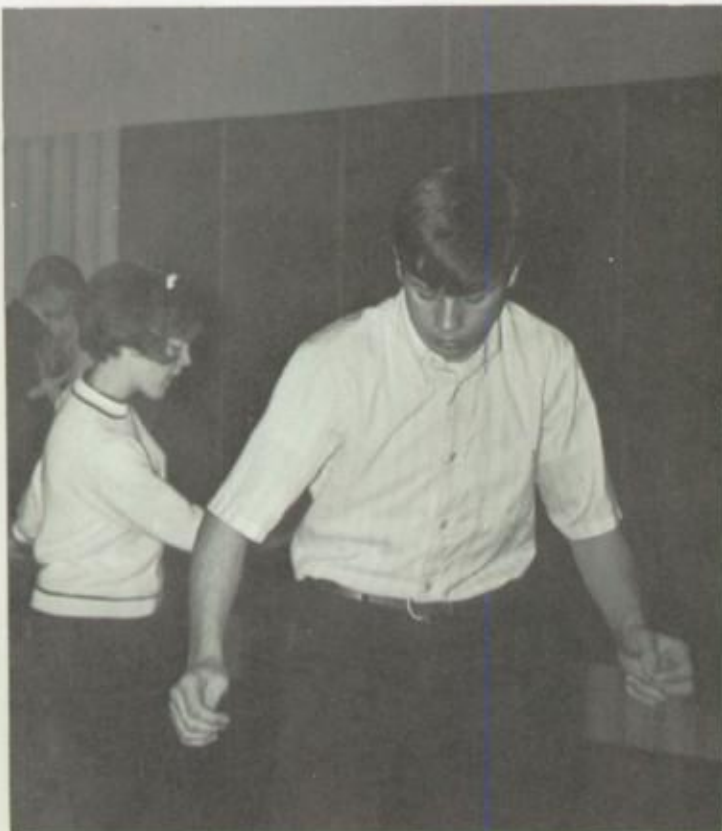

Dances Contribute to Social Activity

Rich Morrison and Janet Selby "Go Better With Coke."

Keep your mind on the dance, Karen.

Sandy Whetsel and Mike Richardson shake a leg.

Bill and Diane take time out from an important job to pose for a picture.

Chris Kennedy waits to be asked to dance.

Social scenes can take place anywhere young people meet. Socializing can be as pompous as a formal or as much fun as a simple walk.

On these pages Forum photographers have captured some of these social scenes.

Kathy Cornett seems to be dancing with our photographer.

Hollinger Reigns As Forum Queen

Carolyn Hollinger was chosen by popular vote of the Junior and Senior classes to reign over the 1969 Forum Show. She also reigned as Homecoming Queen earlier in the year.

The theme, Young at Heart, was truly representative of Carolyn and her court. Carolyn has been quite active all through her high school career. Her enthusiasm and friendly disposition are two of her greatest assets.

Carolyn is going to attend Miami University in the fall. She is hoping to major in mathematics.

Queen Carolyn as she begins her reign.

Carolyn exuberantly accepts congratulations.

SPORTS

Martin steals a pass from a Whitehall Ram.

A 3-6 record does not tell the entire story of the 1968 Fighting Yellow Jackets.

Injuries riddled the ranks as Junior Greg Purdy broke a sacral vertebrae, Junior Doug Savage injured his knee, and the team lost bulky tackles Bob King and Jerry Young for the season.

Junior Bob Brinning received a reoccurring shoulder injury. Senior Co-captains Tom Burke and Phil Eitel received leg and knee injuries. To complicate the situation, Junior quarterback Jeff Martin played with a bad ankle, a bruised elbow, and bruised ribs.

Oregon Clay was the first team victory after the Jackets lost their opener at Willard.

In defeating Whitehall 15-7, the Jackets claimed their greatest victory of the season. Fullback Tom Burke kicked three fieldgoals in the game setting a school record.

Jackets Win 3; Lose 6

After going hungry for three weeks, the Jackets whipped Pleasantview 28-0.

Jim Balsley and Senior defensive halfback Bill Pursel, who led the defense by his great play, were named to the first team defensive team of the Ohio Capital Conference. Honorable mention was accorded Senior guard-linebacker Phil Eitel and Senior halfback Tom Burke.

The Jackets finished sixth in the conference.

Jackets gang-tackle a Worthington Cardinal.

Jacket defense shows great pursuit.

Bob Tier and Doug Savage close in on Worthington Cardinal.

Kim Kaiser lowers the boom on a Fredericktown ballcarrier.

The Fighting Yellow Jacket Reserves had a unique experience this year. Each week they were coached by a different coach. The man who got the call to lead them most often was Tim Faulkner.

Coach Faulkner led the Junior Jackets in four of their eight games. These four games were the reserve's wins, while when other coaches took the reins there were four losses.

Jeff Martin finds a very small opening as Tom Traucht moves in to block.

Co-captain Tom Burke finds some daylight against Whitehall.

Bill Pursel (25) takes a little punishment as Russel Taylor (43) speeds in for assistance.

Mike Davis of Reynoldsburg rambles for another touchdown. 45 is Mike Collier.

Pursel (25) prepares to demolish Worthington's Dick Atha as Martin (12) scores.

Cheerleaders Provide Spirit

The cheerleaders provide spirit at our athletic contests and thuses.

When the teams were in the midst of losing or winning, the cheerleaders would be yelling for encouragement for the team.

Cheerleaders sacrifice many hours as they are expected to put cheerleading before other activities.

Cheerleaders are chosen each spring through open competitions by judging of faculty members.

Their adviser is physical education teacher, Miss Carol Bundy.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS—Laura Crouse, Jodi Hauger, Sheryl Grey, Marsha Metcalf, Carolyn Hollinger, Gail Wiseman.

RESERVE CHEERLEADERS—Karen Graham, Andy Mills, Linda Whetsel, Brenda Mills, Debbie Shrimplin, Becky Chisholm.

Cagers Conclude First Season Under New Coach

The Jacket Cagers under new head coach Keith Merrin suffered through a long season with only 3 wins and 16 losses.

The team could have had at least three more wins, but last second errors turned sure victory into hard defeat.

The high point of the season was a 48-47 victory over Delaware, which at the time, gave the Jackets a tie for the league lead at two wins and a loss. The final standings showed a sixth place tie with a 3-11 mark.

The Junior rich team was led in both scoring and rebounding by senior captain Jim Balsley. Tom Burke, Tom Holdford, and Jim Kennedy rounded out the Senior's contribution.

Cross-Country Struggles Along

The Cross Country team struggled through its third season with a total record of 13 victories and 25 defeats, which includes finishing 12th of 19 teams in the district meet and a 6th place finish in the 8 team O.C.C.

Coach Nick Houston's squad was built around Chris Kaiser, the team's number one runner all year long.

Some of the practices were a little rough!

Chris Kaiser brings home a first-place finish. Mitch Briscoe can be seen in the distance.

Wrestling began its first season at Mt. Vernon High School under head coach John Shafer. Although the turnout was small, the young team gained much needed experience. Experience was proven as the key to wrestling success when the team improved with each meet. Captain Danny Sams, a transfer from Wichita, Kansas, provided the team its only experienced grappler.

Swimmers Splash to 10-4 Record

The Mt. Vernon High School Swimming Team has had a very successful year. Their record of 10 and 4 is not the only thing to show. The fact that many of their swimmers have improved, cutting their times by several seconds is a great tribute to their work and that of Coach Bill Noce.

— GAA Has New Leadership —

GAA, under the new leadership of advisor, Miss Bundy, improved in all areas.

Each of the girls represent Mt. Vernon High in sports such as volleyball, basketball and softball. GAA held weekly meetings to improve their skill.

The annual Powder Puff game was hampered this year due to rain. The Juniors trimmed the Seniors 14-0.

The mud made progress on the field difficult but everyone enjoyed being able to get so muddy.

Besides the two teams each class had boy cheerleaders.

A half-time show was also presented by a marching band that must have been rejects from River City.

NAME-CALLING

After Mr. Odroneic had given the examples of anarchist and radical for the propaganda device of name-calling, he asked Senior Dennis Hockenberry for an example.

Hockenberry promptly called the person sitting next to him a "stupid pig."

GREEN DOOR

The Vocational Agriculture Department believes in practical experience. A lock was broken on one of its steel doors, and Mr. Chester Zimmerman and Junior Greg Wilson fixed it.

Mr. Zimmerman took a welding torch and cut the lock out.
 Wilson put in a new one.

THE LOCK-IN

Students in Mr. Ronald Lucas's period 7 General Business class had a "lock-in."

The dismissal bell rang and the classroom door wouldn't open.

Amidst cries of "Help, I'm too young to deteriorate" and
 "Look what I get locked up with" from the students, custodians came to the rescue.

Nothing was damaged except those who missed buses as the custodians removed the door hinges and forced an entrance to be greeted by cheering students.

Vedette Emphasizes Literary Skills

Vedette, our high school's literary magazine, is published each spring.

This year's editor, Anne Wiester, launched a fall campaign to obtain greater variety and sources of stories. She and her staff visited every English class and special English courses to inform students of the opportunities of Vedette.

The messengers also related how Vedette was organized and how manuscripts were chosen for publication.

Next step was the subscription campaign, compiling a patrons' list and a manuscript drive.

As usual, the Vedette bookstore helped defray costs of production.

The Vedette adviser is Mrs. Kate Dunham.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Secretary Kathryn Hall, Treasurer Terry Parnell, President Bev Payne.

This year the student council, a predominantly female organization, strove towards efficiency in representing the student body.

With Ollie Cline as the advisor, the group added several innovations to their list of activities. One innovation came in the form of a bribe board on which slanderous statements were written on file cards and posted in the glass bulletin board in the main hall. In order to have the card removed, a student was forced to pay a fee. The project was abandoned before it could become profitable.

As ever, the student council executed the traditional projects such as Carnation Day and gathering food for the needy on Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Pep Club Keeps Spirit, Generates Noise

The Pep Club had a busy year keeping the noise alive at our athletic contests. The club deserves credit because our teams suffered losing seasons in its two major spectator sports, football and basketball.

Led by the yelping cheerleaders, the Pep Club made 12 away trips.

To raise money the club sold candy, sweat shirts, and night shirts. A dance and bake sale were also held to raise money.

Mr. Allen Helser, Biology teacher, was the new advisor for the organization.

Officers were: President, Pat Cass; Vice-president, Bill Pursel, Secretary, Andy Mills; and Treasurer, Leslie King.

Pep Club members mix with other students to whoop it up during a thuse.

Members of debate team contemplate ideas.

This year the debate team, under new coach, Mr. Roger Robertson, regrouped and enjoyed new verbal duels.

The national high school debate topic this year settled on the compulsory service system.

To insure some veterans for next year's team and linguistic combat, Mr. Robertson created novice, pro and con teams and looked for potential debaters in his Speech I, II, and Sophomore English classes.

This year's team won the district tournament. Members of the winning team were Richard Bernard, Greg Andorfer, Steve Allarding, and Joe O'Neil.

Key Club, led by President Warren Anderson continued its tradition of service to the school and community.

The club passed out "get out and vote" pamphlets in November and posted signs urging people to use Easter Seals. They also helped out a needy family at Christmas, not to mention numerous spring projects.

The club met on the first and third Wednesdays of every month. The first meeting always involved some sort of recreation while the second one combined an educational program with the business meeting.

The advisor of the club was Larry Gardner, local businessman.

Experience: A Big Part of F.T.A.

This year under the guidance of Mr. Ralph Rice, the Future Teachers of America pointed the way towards a fine profession.

Activities included working in the field of education and meetings discussing education and educational careers.

The organization's main purpose is to give individuals a chance to observe and do student teaching in the Junior High and Elementary Schools of our district.

This year's Marching Band was a very active group. Band Camp was held the last two weeks of August. During this time, two half-time shows, as well as the techniques of marching were learned.

Besides the regular pre-game, half-time shows, and thuses, the band played in the various community parades, such as Memorial Day, Labor Day, Halloween, and Christmas.

Dance band is an asset to the school. These students try out whenever there is a vacancy. Nomination into the Mellow Jackets is very competitive.

This year the Mellow Jackets played in the Tops'n Pops Concert and the annual Forum Show. Besides concerts this talented group plays for school proms, Homecomings and other such events. The Mellow Jackets have also cut records, which can be purchased from members.

Each of the members is dedicated to music. Some of them have even formed their own groups. As an example, a group known as "The New Breed" consisting of Debbie Lunn, Marc Ryuse, Phil Lawrence, Scott Curfman and Rob Hennel, has become a popular jazz band.

Future Homemakers Stress Community Projects

OFFICERS—Karen Conard—Reporter, Claudia Walker—Secretary, Linda Laymon—Vice-President, Lola Lober—President, Galena Korduzki—Treasurer, Karen Purdy—Historian.

The Future Homemakers of America had a new emphasis on community projects this year.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Marie Solomon, the organization stressed service in many of their projects. Two examples of their community projects were a babysitting service at voting places and Christmas Caroling at Rose Garden Nursing Home.

The serious side of social issues was stressed by the organization when five prominent people in the community had a panel on the lowering of the voting age to 18.

The FHA got together with near neighbors when a joint meeting was held in Danville.

To promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfaction of homemaking, meetings were held on food preparation, morals, manners, individuality, and good health.

A meeting was held stressing vocation by having a format of careers available in Home Economics.

Parents were always included in activities with a stress of having parents at the initiation ceremony and a Mama-Daughter social.

Led by President Lola Lober, other purposes stated in the chapter handout include:

- 1) to foster and develop a creative leadership in home and community life,
- 2) to provide wholesome individual and group recreation,
- 3) to emphasize the importance of worthy home membership, and
- 4) to promote international good will.

Good Luck To The Class Of

School Sidelights

An empty locker stands deserted in a once congested corridor.

The bleachers are vacant, and a dandelion pushes through the ground that was scarred by football cleats.

Many students have taken a last, almost nostalgic glance towards their old classrooms.

The Forum has attempted to preserve the many aspects of this year, that may otherwise have been forgotten.

Most importantly to preserve the student profiles of this, the last graduating class of old Mount Vernon High.

Next year there will be a new school, and a new graduating class from Mount Vernon Senior High School.

Steve,
I wish you the best of luck in all you set out to do. Remember all the great times we've had (Bingo & all!)
Keep your nice personality and you'll go far.
Diane
"70"

Steve,
To a great buddy to which we have many secrets, best of luck your Senior year.

try.

Steve,
You're really a cool guy. It's been great knowing you!
Good luck!
Brenda "70"

Steve, a wonder!
You're a wonder!
Boy, we've had a lot of good times in English class
Hope we get together next year. Steve!
P.S. Be good! Andy
"70"

Steve,
I can't think of with-
anything to write.
You're still a groover
